

Message from the Team

Army Directive 2023-15 (Subsequent Command Inspections)

This directive rescinds AD 2018-07-3 paragraph 3a, establishing subsequent command inspections as a critical component of the Army inspection principles.

Effective immediately, pursuant to AR 1-201, subsequent command inspections are required as a critical component of the Army inspection principles to measure progress and to reinforce the goals and standards established during initial command inspections. The first general officer in the chain of command may waive the requirement for subsequent command inspections.

Guidance on Bereavement Leave for Soldiers:

On 8 May 2023, Secretary of the Army released a memorandum (Bereavement Leave for Soldiers), which authorizes up to 14 days of consecutive non-chargeable bereavement leave for eligible Soldiers in connection with the death of a spouse or child.

Eligible Soldiers whose spouse or child died on or after 25 June 2022 with:

- Fewer than 30 days of accrued ordinary leave on the date of death are eligible up to 14 consecutive days of bereavement leave
- Thirty or more days of accrued ordinary leave on the date of such death are eligible up to 14 consecutive days of bereavement leave once accrued ordinary leave is less than 30 days

Eligible Soldiers whose spouse or child died on or after 25 June 2022, and who were charged leave in connection with the death, may request leave be restored through the established process in AR 600–8–10.

Approval Authority: Company-level or equivalent commanders:

- May approve bereavement leave for eligible Soldiers. When approving leave, they must act in a swift and sensitive manner as they consider the significance of the event and its impact on the Soldier and the Family
- May extend the period of bereavement for eligible Soldiers because of operational requirements/deployment
- May authorize bereavement leave in combination with chargeable leave and other types of non-chargeable leave

The first general officer in the Soldier's chain of command holds the authority to disapprove a bereavement leave request.

Eligible Soldiers:

- Must provide administratively acceptable documents to their company-level commander or equivalent 30 calendar days after returning from leave. Failure to do so will result in the reduction of the Soldier's ordinary leave account following return to service
- Will not be authorized bereavement leave in connection with the death of person who is not their spouse or child and loss of child resulting from stillbirth/miscarriage
- Will not be extended on, or recalled back to, active service solely to permit the use of bereavement leave

Other Changes

Guidance on Changes to Army Directive 2023-11 (Army Body Fat Assessment for the Army Body Composition Program).

On 9 June 2023, Secretary of the Army released AD 2023-11, which implements modifications to the Army Body Fat.

- Applicability: Regular Army, Army National Guard/Army National Guard of the United States, and U.S. Army Reserve.
- Previous multi-site circumference method:
  - Calculated a male Soldier's body fat percentage using neck and waist measurements.
  - Calculated a female Soldier's body fat percentage using neck, waist, and hip measurements.
- New one-site circumference tape method: only uses the waist (at the navel) to calculate body fat percentage for both male and female Soldiers.

Implementation: New one-site circumference tape method will be phased in over the next year. During this time, Soldiers who require circumference-based tape tests will take the one-site tape test. Those who fail are authorized to be measured by the previous multi-site circumference tape method for their confirmation tape test. After 12 months from the date of AD 2023-11, the one-site tape test will be the only authorized circumference-based tape method.

Beginning 8 June 2024, one-site tape test method is the only authorized method.

Supplemental Body Fat Assessment:

Soldiers who fail the circumference-based tape methods will be flagged. However, at the time of their counseling for failure, they may request a supplemental body fat assessment, subject to the appropriate commander's determination of reasonable availability. The flag is lifted if a Soldier passes the supplemental test.

Commanders will flag and refer all Soldiers who do not request/fail the supplemental body fat assessment to the ABCP.

Army Combat Fitness Test (ACFT) Exemption:

Per AD 2023-08, all Soldiers who score 540 or more on the record ACFT, with a minimum of 80 points in each event, are exempt from the Army body fat circumference-based tape assessment. This policy applies to Soldiers who complete all six primary events; no alternative events are authorized.
